The exciting sounds of Tahitian drums early in the year heralded the arrival of a new club on campus. The Tahiti Nui club or the beautiful Tahiti Club was the newest cultural club on campus. The Tahitians organized themselves during the summer under the leadership of Etua Tahauri and had as its main goals, the sharing of Tahitian culture with CCH students, the motivating of club members academically, spiritually, and socially. Also among the aims of the club was the promotion of a French-English language exchange program, that assisted the French speaking students in their English studies and the English students in their French courses.

BAND

Under the directorship of Chester Stone, the CCH Band provided cultural entertainment through the year in their Fall concert, Spring Concert and Christmas Concert. Band membership dropped almost a half in spring semester because of transfers but the music was still loud and rich. Besides the formal concerts the band provided beautiful music for the homecoming parade.

ESOTERIC MUSIC SOCIETY

The Esoteric Music Society initiated in September, 1968, is composed of Music Majors, minors, and all interested students. The Society is a chapter of the National Music Educators National Conference which recently had a convention in Hawaii. The Society taking active part in the convention, also sponsored Music Week both semesters. With the help of Lloyd Tew (advisor) the Society co-sponsored the Collegium Colloquim meetings, which featured its members as speakers on instrument evolution to Jazz involvement.

The Church College production of Sophocles' Electra was a moving and powerful portrayal of the Greek tragedy. Electra, an actors' play, provided an excellent vehicle for dynamic acting by Alexa Thoene and Dave Schepps. The story evolved around the rantings and ravings of Electra over the murder of her father by her mother Clytemnestra and Clytemnestra's lover Aegisthus. Revenge is attained by the return of Electra's brother Orestes who kills his mother and her lover.

A comedy in three acts, this play was by far the most successful production of the year. The plot centered around two newlyweds Corie and Paul Bratter (played by Terri Culligan and Spencer McMullin) and the problems that confronted them after seven days of marriage.

One of the highlights of the production was the realistic set which was the scene of all three acts. Clever use of space and available materials by Walter Miller, Diane Pattison, and Janette LaRondelle added to the success of the play.

Don King and Mike Flynn (above) and Sid Sandstrom and Richard Cox (below) jump hurdles in one phase of the Pain Barrier.

'PAIN BARRIER'

A grimace of pain from Ray Kaanga at the half-way point of a cross country run to Laie Point.

Pain distorts Dave Barney's face during the strenuous wind sprints.

The pain mounted as varsity sport turnouts participated in the pain barrier. No athlete was allowed to play on any team without first cracking the barrier.

The athletes, ranging from light-weight team managers to 200 pound ruggers all faced the same tough regimen; 70 squats lifting half of their body weight, 80 sit-ups, 20 trips up and down the pool bleachers, and 20 minutes of wind sprints. For diversion the athletes faced the long distance run to Laie Point and back.

The training showed its value in the BYU and Occidental games when outweighed CCH ruggers manhandled the visiting teams.

Doing push-ups without any 'pain' are Hunt, Naeata, Moleni, Ottley, and Flynn.

Coach Lowell reviews game strategy with Vakalala.

CCH fights hard to keep their lead against the Tongan Vikings.

The desire that carried them to victory over bigger opponents is mirrored on B team players in a lineout with East West Center.

RUGBY

STATISTICS FOR 1968-69 SEASON

CCH A vs.	Eastwest Center	29-0
	Harlequins	39-3
	Vikings	11-6
	CCH B	23-3
	Eastwest Center	48-0
	Blackpool B	34-0
	Harlequins	47-9

	Harlequins	14-14
	Eastwest Center	13-11

Roland Josephs tackles Sua Tuimalaleliifano as Sosaia Paongo lunges in for support.

Varsity B Coach, Graham Ormsby, uses half-time to suggest new maneuvers

George Moleni stubbornly fights to keep the ball.

Wolfgram is well supported by team mate, Moleni

A mass of arms and bodies struggle for the ball.

La'au Liufau and Ui Poloai exchange comments about the game over a can of root beer.

Joe Vakalala shows his fine kicking form.

George Hunt gets patched up by coach John Lowell.

Olupui Fonua finds that over the concrete sidewalk makes a good resting place after a rough game.

C.C.H. vs B.Y.U.

11-0

Giant BYU ruggers took most of the scrums and line ups in the first half...

But pain training turned the 2nd half into a rout...

With CCH beating the Cougars in every scrum.

CCH ruggers more in the spirit of Aloha than the haka seemed determined to grin the Cougars to death.

Olupi Fonua tangles with Occidental player for possession of the ball, as teammates from both teams give a hand.

C.C.H. vs OCCIDENTAL

21-11

Manu Lauti adds support in scrum.

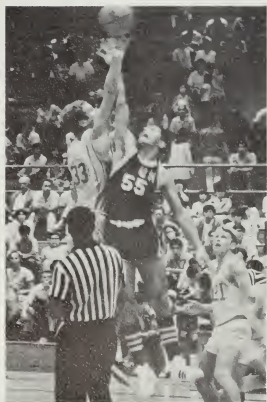

Weary Tuione Pulotu 'freshens up with 7-Up'.

CCH's varsity basketball team: Wayne Chu, Marcel Keanaaina, Don King, Steve Sharp, Sid Sandstrom, Earl Veloria, Dennis Largey, Eddie Kalima, Mike Flynn, Sid Sandberg and David Barney.

Pivot man Steve Sharp stretches high to outreach a Hilo-ite for the ball.

Coach Boyd Jarman offers a word of advice to the Seaside team.

Dennis Largey waits for play to develop before taking action.

A second's wait as Mike Flynn scores.

It's rest time for volleyballers.

Church College of Hawaii fielded what in Coach John Lowell's opinion will prove to be the strongest college team in the United States.

Using new training techniques that John Lowell and Carl McGown brought back from State Department sponsored trips to Poland and John Lowell's experience in Japanese volleyball, the team had their local opponents bedazzled and bewildered. In March, the team crushed the visiting Air Force team from California 15-6, 13-15, 15-6 and 15-8.

The team leaves in May for Knoxville, Tennessee, where they hope to annex the National Title. Enroute, they will stop at Salt Lake City to conduct a clinic on the latest volleyball techniques for the teams at the All Church Tournament.

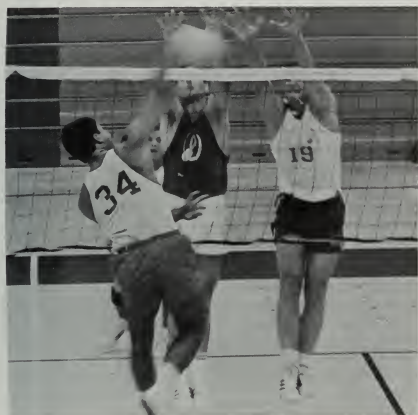

With karate style, Dick Templeman spikes.

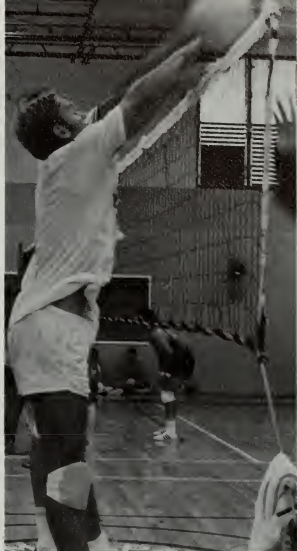

Dennis Largey provides backup for Larry Millikin's spike.

Dave Sturt is trapped between the sideline and an onrushing SCH defender.

John Bailey beats out a SCH player.

Abe Singh races a SCH player to the ball.

TENNIS

The CCH tennis team began its tennis season for 1969, the week the yearbook went to the press.

They were scheduled to play Leeward College and Chaminade College at CCH. Gary Okamura was confident CCH would beat both their opponents.

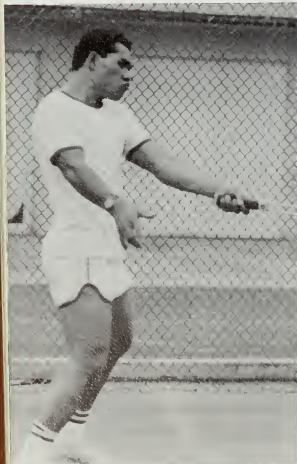

The team will participate in three major tennis championships this year. These are the University of Hawaii Team Tournament, Oahu Intercollegiates and the Hawaii State Intercollegiates.

CCH's toughest match will probably be against the Waikiki Tennis Club. Greg Peebles, Mike Farrell, Jim Schwitters and Richard Fried, the state's Nos. 1, 2, 3, and 4 ranking tennis players play for the Waikiki Tennis Club.

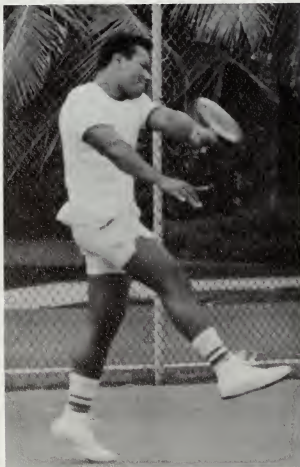

Gary Okamura is the coach and manager of the team, and Robert Laird, advisor.

Toki expresses his disappointment in his forehand shot.

Moleni returns a serve with a smashing fore-hand during practice play.

Star tennis player, Gary Okamura also coaches the team.
